

Dr. Durrani prides herself in providing comprehensive dental care and creating a relationship of trust with her patients.

Dr. Durrani studied in a 3 year program leading to a Masters of Dental Surgery (Periodontics) at the National University of Singapore, Singapore and Membership of Restorative Dentistry by Royal College of Surgeons in Edinburgh, UK in 2010. After practicing mainly as a Periodontist for a few years she moved to the US and attended the Advanced Education in General Dentistry program at Marquette University School of Dentistry in 2013. That led to a career in the US as a general dentist with a strong interest in Periodontics. In addition to all aspects of general dentistry, her areas of expertise include managing severe gum disease, implants, gum recession, crown lengthening surgery. Dr. Durrani loves spending time with her family in free time and traveling.
